

Mental Health & Addiction: An Integrated Care in Latin America
Editors: Scoppetta, Pérez, Mejía, Zangeneh

Mental Health & Addiction: An Integrated Care in Latin America

Mental Health & Addiction: An Integrated Care in Latin America
Editors: Scoppetta, Pérez, Mejía, Zangeneh

Orlando Scoppetta ● Augusto Pérez ● Juliana Mejía ● Masood
Zangeneh
Editors

Mental Health & Addiction: An Integrated Care in Latin America

CDS Press

Woodbridge, Canada

CDS Press is owned and operated by Concurrent Disorders Society Inc. It advances the Society's objective of excellence in scholarship by publishing worldwide.

© CDS Press 2023

Copyright: ©2023 Orlando Scoppetta, Augusto Pérez, Juliana Mejía, Masood Zangeneh. Licensee CDS Press, Toronto, Canada. This book is an open access manuscript distributed under the terms and conditions of the Creative Commons Attribution (CC BY) license (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>)

Copyeditor: Brendan Beckett

ISBN 978-1-7778018-3-0

Contents

Authors	v
Chapter 1: Mental Health in Times of SARS-COV-2	1
Orlando Scoppetta D. G., Alexis E. Carrillo R., Camilo Rodríguez-Fandiño, Jennifer Toro Bermúdez, Alejandra Villamil-Sánchez, Juliana Mejía Trujillo, Augusto Pérez-Gómez
Chapter 2: Telemedicine for Mental Health in Latin America	26
Guillermo A. Castaño P., Luz Angela Rojas Bernal, Macarena Mesa
Chapter 3: Stigmatization in People Who Use Drugs: Causes, Consequences, and Intervention	57
Carlos Arturo Cassiani-Miranda, Telmo Mota Ronzani, Felipe Tirado
Chapter 4: Social Inequality and Consumption of Psychoactive Substances in Colombia	89
Orlando Scoppetta D. G., Bertha Lucía Avendaño Prieto
Chapter 5: Recreational Marijuana Use and Its Effects on Cognitive Skills in Adolescents	112
Milton Rojas
Chapter 6: The Party Starts Before You Think: “Predrinking,” or “Pregaming,” among Mexican Youth	135
Marycarmen Noemí Bustos Gamiño, Jorge A. Villatoro Velázquez, Norberto Francisco Hernández Llanes, Clara Fleiz Bautista, Nancy Gigliola Amador Buenabad, María de Lourdes Gutiérrez López, María Elena Medina-Mora, Juan Arturo Sabines Torres
Chapter 7: Cigarette/ Tobacco Use and Exposure to Smoke in Latin America	170
Constanza Londoño Pérez, Carlos Antonio Pardo Adames, Marcela Velasco Salamanca, Siu Fong Acón Araya, Luis Diego Vega Araya, Justo Reinaldo Fabelo Roche, Martín Noé Grijalva, Carlos López Villavicencio, Tamara Rodríguez Quintana, Jose Rodolfo Real Audeve, Julieta Vélez Belmonte
Subject Index	204

EDITORS

Orlando Scoppetta D. G.

PhD psychologist and data analysis specialist with master's degrees in population studies and psychology. Director of Research and Evaluation at the Nuevos Rumbos Corporation. Author of several books and book chapters. Analyst, adviser and consultant in social and public health issues. Former Director of the Colombian Observatory of Drug Use, and former Deputy Director of Research of the Colombian Institute of Family Welfare.

Email: oscoppetta@nuevosrumbos.org

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4876-5400>

Augusto Pérez-Gómez

Born in Bogotá, Colombia, Professor-Dr. Pérez-Gómez obtained his Ph.D. at Louvain's University in Belgium. He has worked at four universities: University of Lille, France (1974-1975); University of Los Andes, Colombia (1975-2002); London University as a Visiting Professor (1994); and also as Visiting Professor at the Robert Wood Johnson Medical School, University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, USA (2004-2006). Since 2002, he has been the Director of the Nuevos Rumbos Corporation, a non-profit dedicated to research and prevention of drug abuse. He has published 18 books and 194 papers (as of March 2022) in Spanish, English, French, German and Portuguese. In September 2006 he received the National Award of Excellence in Blending Research and Practice from the National Hispanic Science Network of the United States.

Juliana Mejía Trujillo

Social worker with a master's degree in anthropology, and a PhD candidate at Maastricht University, the Netherlands.

Director of Prevention at the Nuevos Rumbos Corporation as, responsible for the implementation of several prevention projects in Colombia and other Latin American countries (e.g., Mexico, Chile, and Brazil). Author or co-author of nearly 30 publications, including three books and three book chapters, and several articles in Spanish, English, and Portuguese.

Email: jmejia@nuevosrumbos.org

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-9327-4689>

Masood Zangeneh is a professor in the Faculty of Liberal Arts & Sciences and Innovative Learning at Humber College Institute of Technology and Advanced Learning. Dr. Zangeneh is the Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Ethnicity in Substance Abuse, founding editor of the International Journal of Mental Health and Addiction, editor of the book series Advances in Mental Health & Addiction, and founding editor of the Journal of Concurrent Disorders. He also serves as a consultant to numerous scientific journals and universities for interdisciplinary, multi-cultural research and development addressing mental health, addiction, and resilience among marginalized populations.

E-mail: masood.zangeneh@humber.ca

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-5038-1089>

MENTAL HEALTH IN TIMES OF SARS-COV-2

Orlando Scoppetta D. G.

PhD psychologist and data analysis specialist with master's degrees in population studies and psychology. Director of Research and Evaluation at the Nuevos Rumbos Corporation. Author of several books and book chapters. Analyst, adviser and consultant in social and public health issues. Former Director of the Colombian Observatory of Drug Use, and former Deputy Director of Research of the Colombian Institute of Family Welfare.

Email: oscoppetta@nuevosrumbos.org

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4876-5400>

Alexis E. Carrillo R.

Psychologist and machine learning researcher.

Job experience: Statistics, data analysis, psychometrics and teaching.

Skills: Statistical modelling, multivariate methods, machine learning applications and data mining, R and Python programming languages.

Knowledge and experience on scientific research, design, analysis and evaluation of psychometric tests.

Email: alexiscarrillor@gmail.com

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-9429-3494>

Camilo Rodríguez-Fandiño

Psychologist and specialist in clinical psychology and personal self-efficacy at El Bosque University. Author and peer evaluator on various psychosocial issues, mental health and old age, with a great interest in public health and mental health.

Email: camilorf.gb@gmail.com

Jennifer Toro Bermúdez

Psychologist specialising in clinical psychology at the Catholic University of Colombia. Master's in clinical psychology from the Pontifical Xavierian University. Expert in the design, execution and monitoring of research, and social intervention programs and projects. Currently the technical and methodological coordinator in prevention at the Nuevos Rumbos Corporation.

Email: jtoro@nuevosrumbos.org

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-7059-886X>

Alejandra Villamil-Sánchez

Psychologist with a PhD from El Bosque University, where she also obtained the title of Specialist in Clinical Psychology and Personal Self-Efficacy.

Currently working on her doctoral dissertation in psychology at the University of Los Andes. She is Deputy Researcher of the Director at the Nuevos Rumbos Corporation, and coordinates two projects: one on sociopathy and risks of criminal behaviour, and another on the impact of drug use on family life.

Email: avillamil@nuevosrumbos.org

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0661-7648>

Juliana Mejía Trujillo

Social worker with a master's degree in anthropology, and a PhD candidate at Maastricht University, the Netherlands.

Director of Prevention at the Nuevos Rumbos Corporation as, responsible for the implementation of several prevention projects in Colombia and other Latin American countries (e.g., Mexico, Chile, and Brazil). Author or co-author of nearly 30 publications, including three books and three book chapters, and several articles in Spanish, English, and Portuguese.

Email: jmejia@nuevosrumbos.org

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-9327-4689>

Augusto Pérez-Gómez

Born in Bogotá, Colombia, Professor-Dr. Pérez-Gómez obtained his Ph.D. at Louvain's University in Belgium. He has worked at four universities: University of Lille, France (1974-1975); University of Los Andes, Colombia (1975-2002); London University as a Visiting Professor (1994); and also as Visiting Professor at the Robert Wood Johnson Medical School, University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, USA (2004-2006). Since 2002, he has been the Director of the Nuevos Rumbos Corporation, a non-profit dedicated to research and prevention of drug abuse. He has published 18 books and 194 papers (as of March 2022) in Spanish, English, French, German and Portuguese. In September 2006 he received the National Award of Excellence in Blending Research and Practice from the National Hispanic Science Network of the United States.

TELEMEDICINE FOR MENTAL HEALTH IN LATIN AMERICA

Guillermo A. Castaño P.

Physician and surgeon at University of Caldas with a master's in drug addiction from University of Madrid and a PhD in health psychology and Specialist in Dual Pathology from Miguel Hernández University, Spain. Research professor and Coordinator of the master's degree program for drug addiction in the Faculty of Medicine at the CES University in Medellín, Colombia. Founder and Vice President of the Colombian Association of Dual Pathology, member of the World Association of Dual Pathology (WADD), and member of the International Consortium of Universities for Drug Demand Reduction (ICUDDR). Senior researcher classified in the Scienti system of the Colombian Ministry of Science and Technology.

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0291-3511>

Luz Angela Rojas Bernal

MD psychiatrist from Del Rosario University, Bogotá D.C, Colombia. Master's in epidemiology and public health and PhD in health sciences from the CES University in Medellín, Colombia. Peer recognized Junior Researcher (IJ) by MinCiencias. Research professor in the Faculty of Health and Sport Sciences and member of the Public Health and Epidemiology Research Group at the Andean Region University Foundation in Bogotá D.C, Colombia. Main research areas are mental health, epidemiology, public health, drug addiction and neuroscience.

Email: lrojas243@areandina.edu.co

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0175-407X>

Macarena Mesa

Professor in the Department of Medical Technology at the University of Chile since 2008. Master's degree in bioethics from Pontifical Catholic University of Chile, and undergraduate degree in medical technology from the University of Chile. Her research focuses in the area of visual sciences, but she is also interested in the rational and humanized use of technology applied to health. Currently teaches courses on ophthalmology, optometry and research with animal models to undergraduate and graduate students, and has lectured both locally and internationally on these topics.

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-9375-8034>

STIGMATIZATION IN PEOPLE WHO USE DRUGS: CAUSES, CONSEQUENCES, AND INTERVENTION

Carlos Arturo Cassiani-Miranda

MD psychiatrist with a master's degree in drug dependence. Associate professor in the Programme of Medicine with the Faculty of Health Sciences at University of Santander, Colombia. Former president of the Colombian Association of Dual Pathology. Specialist in pedagogy for the development of autonomous learning. Member of the board of directors of the Colombian Association of Biological Psychiatry. Member of the Spanish Society of Dual Disorders and of the World Association of Dual Disorders. President of the International Network for Stigma Reduction (RED_ESTIGMA).

Email: ca.cassiani@mail.udes.edu

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-2288-1027>

Telmo Mota Ronzani

Psychologist with a master's degree in social psychology from the Federal University of Minas Gerais (UFMG), Brazil, and PhD from the Federal University of São Paulo (UNIFESP). Post-doc at the University of São Paulo (USP), and at the University of Connecticut Health Center (UconnHC) in the field of alcohol and other drugs. Full professor at Juiz de Fora Federal University (UFJF), Brazil. Member of the Work Group Drugs and Society of the National Association for Research and Post-Graduate Studies in Psychology (ANPEPP). Researcher at the Reference Center for Research, Intervention and Evaluation in Alcohol and Drugs (CREPEIA) of UFJF, and Productivity Fellow at the National Council for Scientific and Technological Development (CNPq). Editor-in-Chief of the International Journal of Mental Health and Addiction. Research and interventions with emphasis on primary health care, alcohol, tobacco and other drugs, collective health, public policies on drugs, community psychology, and social stigma.

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-8927-5793>

Felipe Tirado

Nurse with a master's in Epidemiology and PhD in public health. Full professor in the Faculty of Nursing and director of the Research Group in Care at the Pontifical Bolivarian University. Founding member of the International Network for Stigma Reduction (RED_ESTIGMA).

Email: felipe.tirado@upb.edu.co

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-9010-1494>

SOCIAL INEQUALITY AND CONSUMPTION OF PSYCHOACTIVE SUBSTANCES IN COLOMBIA

Orlando Scoppetta D. G.

PhD psychologist and data analysis specialist with master's degrees in population studies and psychology. Director of Research and Evaluation at the Nuevos Rumbos Corporation. Author of several books and book chapters. Analyst, adviser and consultant in social and public health issues. Former Director of the Colombian Observatory of Drug Use, and former Deputy Director of Research of the Colombian Institute of Family Welfare.

Email: oscoppetta@nuevosrumbos.org

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4876-5400>

Bertha Lucía Avendaño Prieto

PhD psychologist and professor of psychology at the Catholic University of Colombia. COLCIENCIAS' senior researcher and head of the research group GAEM. Areas of interest are methodology, measurement, and data analysis.

RECREATIONAL MARIJUANA USE AND ITS EFFECTS ON COGNITIVE SKILLS IN ADOLESENTS

Milton Rojas

Psychologist with a master's degree in Drug Addiction from the Cayetano Heredi Peruvian University. Founding member of the CEDRO Listening Place service. Mental Health Coordinator of the Alliance for the Amazon Project against Covid-19, a CEDRO initiative supported by USAID. Professor in the CICAD/OAS Ibero-American Master's degree program in Drug Addiction at the School of Addiction Counselors (ECAD-Ñaña), and the COPOLAD-UE-SENDA Evidence-Based Prevention course, as well as a visiting professor of master's and diploma programs in Chile and Bolivia. Winner of the Award for Good Practices in community prevention of drug use as Technical Director of the PREDEM Project, sponsored by UNODC, and DEVIDA developed by CEDRO in Tingo María, Peru. Has published books, manuals, and articles in Peru and abroad.

The Party Starts Before You Think: “Predrinking,” or “Pregaming,” among Mexican Youth

Marycarmen Noemí Bustos Gamiño

Psychologist with PhD from the University of Guadalajara and a master's degree in family therapy from the Center for Family Studies and Research, IFAC. Researcher at the Ramón de la Fuente Muñiz National Institute of Psychiatry (INPRFM). Received the Young Researcher award granted by the Ramón de la Fuente A.C. Foundation, the INPRFM and the UNAM in 2021. Collaborates in developing the national and state surveys on drug consumption in the general population and the school population. Lines of research: drug use in adolescents and young people, and other mental health problems such as suicide and self-injury behaviour.

Email: mary.bustosg@gmail.com

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0106-954X>

Jorge A. Villatoro Velázquez

Coordinator of the Survey and Data Analysis Unit. Affiliated with the Directorate of Epidemiological and Psychosocial Research, National Institute of Psychiatry. Member of UNODC/WHO Informal International Scientific Network, and of the Latino-American and Caribbean Net of Addictions Researchers of CICAD.

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-2537-858X>

Email: javvrosh@outlook.com

Norberto Francisco Hernández Llanes

Holds a master's degree in public health (INSP). Currently serves as Deputy Director of Regulations, Guidelines and Technical Procedures at the National Commission against Addictions (CONADIC). Consultant in data science as applied to public health and addictions. Collaborating member of the Global Burden of Disease Study of the Institute for Health Metrics and Evaluation at the University of Washington. Member of the Thematic Network Aging, Health and Social Development CONACyT, National Institute of Geriatrics.

Email: norberto.hernandezllanes@gmail.com

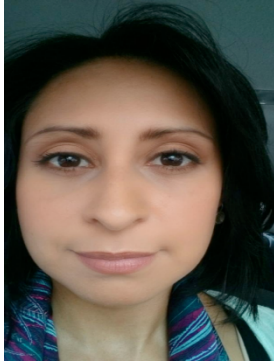

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-5918-3137>

Clara Fleiz Bautista

PhD in social psychology from the National Autonomous University of Mexico. Works at the Ramon de la Fuente National Institute of Psychiatry on various national studies about drug consumption and mental health, and most recently in Mexico's northern border with injecting drug user population in places of high vulnerability. Main fields of interest are the consumption of heroin, crystal meth and adulterants with fentanyl.

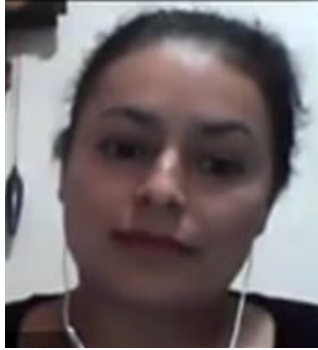

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-5297-2579>

Email: fleiz@imp.edu.mx

Nancy Gigliola Amador Buenabad

Currently completing a doctorate in psychology in the School of Psychology at the National Autonomous University of Mexico. Researcher in Medical Sciences at the Ramón de la Fuente Muñiz National Institute of Psychiatry, with two lines of research under her charge: (1) Parenting practices for the prevention and care of behavioural problems in children and adolescents, and (2) prevention of addictions in children and adolescents. Specialist in the PMTO Generation Model, upon which the CAPAS-Mx positive parenting model is based. Collaborates with a Latino network in the United States on positive parenting with whom she develops research and provides training to train specialists in the model in the US and Latin America. Has participated in various scientific publications, and academic forums with national and international scientists

Email: nagy@imp.edu.mx

María de Lourdes Gutiérrez López

Psychologist with a PhD from the Justo Sierra University Cultural Center, and MS in systemic family therapy at the Latin American Institute of Family Studies and Psychoanalytic Training, at the Center for Mexican Psychoanalytic Studies. Researcher in Medical Sciences at the Ramón de la Fuente Muñiz National Institute of Psychiatry since 1999, collaborating in various studies on mental health and addiction. Specialized in working with underage children, especially in prevention. Coordinator of the project Leaving Huellitas in your Life, created to prevent addictions and mental health problems in children. Currently participates as a trainer for the Universal Prevention Curriculum (UPC) project by the Colombo Plan and CICAD-OAS.

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-8939-8067>

Email: wodahs_stiky@hotmail.com

María Elena Medina-Mora PhD

Dean of the School of Psychology (UNAM). Affiliated with the Center of Global Mental Health Research, National Institute of Psychiatry. Emeritus Researcher at the National System of Researchers, Mexico. Member of the UNODC/WHO Informal International Scientific Network, the WHO Advisory Group on Training and Implementation for ICD-11, and Alcohol and Drug Epidemiology.

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-9300-0752>

Email: metmmora@gmail.com

medinam@imp.edu.mx

Juan Arturo Sabines Torres

Master's degree in health systems administration and bachelor's degree in psychology from the National Autonomous University of Mexico. Specialist in addiction care and public health with more than 25 years of experience in the area, with emphasis on the development of public policies for the control of tobacco and harmful use of alcohol. Extensive experience in developing and evaluating public health and social development programs. Alcohol and

Tobacco Technical Consultant for the Pan American Health Organization (OPS/OMS)

Email: sabinesjua@paho.org

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0812-0723>

CIGARETTE / TOBACCO USE AND EXPOSURE TO SMOKE IN LATIN AMERICA

Constanza Londoño Pérez

Psychologist with a master's degree in psychology and health from the National University of Colombia, and a doctorate in psychology from the University of La Laguna, with thesis Suma Cum Laude. Principal investigator at MinCiencias. Experience as an undergraduate and postgraduate teacher. Winner of multiple distinctions for research and academic quality. Written more than forty research articles and several books and chapters on drug use prevention and public policy. Has been an advisor to the WHO and the MSPS on policies to support the cessation of drug use. Extensive experience in the design and validation of instruments that assess the psychological aspects of the health-disease process. Recognized for her work in prevention of SPA consumption, coping, male depression and body image.

Carlos Antonio Pardo Adames

Psychologist with a master's degree in education (with emphasis in curriculum and educational assessment), and psychology PhD candidate. Professor at the Catholic University of Colombia, teaching undergraduate and postgraduate level courses in psychometry, statistics, educational psychology and assessment, and development of competences. He is an international lecturer in subjects like educational quality and assessment and psychometrics. Specialist in test design and in data processing and analysis. Has been National Project Manager of various national and international educational assessment programs. Has worked as a consultant monitoring educational assessment projects for the national education ministries of Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, El Salvador, Ecuador, Nicaragua, Uruguay, Paraguay and Venezuela. Participated in data processing for the Latin American Laboratory of Quality of Education Assessment LLECE/UNESCO (Laboratorio de Evaluación de la Calidad de la Educación en América Latina). Has worked with private organizations to design tests for personnel selection.

Email: capardo@ucatolica.edu.co

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-6773-2781>

Email: capardo@ucatolica.edu.co

Marcela Velasco Salamanca

Psychologist with a master's degree in the area of addictions and violence. Undergraduate and postgraduate teacher, and researcher in the ENLACE group of the Catholic University of Colombia. Certified by COLCIENCIAS as an Associate Researcher, winner of the research award in 2009, and recognized by various publications in the field. Currently researching the issue of smoking prevention in Colombia and Latin America.

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-7761-9413>

Email: rmvelasco@ucatolica.edu.co

Siu Fong Acón Araya

PhD in educational sciences and master's degree in psychology. Full-time research professor at the Latin University of Costa Rica. Currently teaching psychology courses in statistics and both qualitative and quantitative research. Main research interests are in education, social psychology, clinical psychology and work psychology. Published articles in national and international journals of high impact in these areas, and presented at various conferences, courses, seminars and workshops. Participated in educational innovation projects with the STEM model, specialization obtained through the Laspau-Harvard Program in 2018.

Email: siufong.acon@ulatina.cr

siuacon@gmail.com

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-5116-0958>

Luis Diego Vega Araya

Research director at the Latin University of Costa Rica, and formerly head of the Psychology Department from 2007 to 2018. Earned his MSc in human development and family studies with an emphasis on marriage and family therapy, and Ph.D. in an interdisciplinary program—both from Colorado State University in the United States. Has worked as a practicing therapist with many Costa Rican and U.S. couples living in Costa Rica for more than 20 years. Research interests include trust issues in romantic relationships, understanding culture and ethnicity (focusing primarily on cultural differences between Hispanic and non-Hispanic populations), aging, and bilingualism.

Email: luis.vegaa@ulatina.cr

Justo Reinaldo Fabelo Roche

Full professor, senior researcher and head of the Addictions Research Department at the University of Medical Sciences of Havana (Center for Academic Development in Drug Addictions). Directed the study on the validation of the Cigarette/Tobacco Users Questionnaire in the Cuban population and has published several reports and articles on the characterization of Cuban smokers evaluated for the Latin American validation of this questionnaire, its adaptation to the Cuban context from a linguistic and cultural perspective, and the determination of its reliability and general validity.

Email: justoreinaldofabelo@gmail.com ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-5316-0951>

Martín Noé Grijalva

Psychologist with 21 years of professional experience, With a master's in University Teaching and doctorate in psychology from César Vallejo University in Peru. Has 16 years of experience in university management, charged with the coordination of the School of Psychology at César Vallejo. Member of the Quality Committee for the Accreditation of the School of Psychology of Trujillo and Chimbote. University professor for more than 20 years teaching clinical psychology, psychopathology, psychotherapy and thesis development project. Renacyt Researcher Teacher Category "Carlos Monge Medrano": Level IV (Concytec)-Peru. Internships at the Autonomous University of Nuevo León in Mexico, and at Saint Thomas University in Colombia. Currently serves as Director of Graduate Research at César Vallejo University.

EMAIL: hnoe@ucv.edu.pe

Carlos López Villavicencio

Doctor of psychology and senior professor at Cayetano Heredia Peruvian University. Researcher in the area of clinical psychology and author of articles in journals of this specialty. Has participated as a trainer in the specialty program of addictions with a gender approach, training health professionals in psychotherapeutic intervention for grief, crisis and psychological emergencies during COVID-19. Has participated in the implementation of a proposal for mentoring and counseling in the university system, with experience in the community social environment participating in the Primary Health Care Program. Teaches undergraduate and graduate level courses and participates as a lecturer at conferences.

Received awards and recognitions in Peru: Honorary Professor of the Higher Institute of Pedagogical Education (ISEP) Barcelona, recognition of the College of Psychologists of Peru, and the Latin American Association for Behaviour Modification (ALAMOC).

Email: Carlos.lopez@uoch.pe

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-5964-7103>

Tamara Rodríguez Quintana

Professor at the University of Medical Sciences of Havana, research professor and director of the Specialization Program in Family and Community Medicine at the Private Technical University of Loja (UTPL), Ecuador. Graduated with an MD from the Higher Institute of Medical Sciences of Havana; First Degree Specialist in Comprehensive General Medicine. Master's degree in public health from the National School of Public Health of Cuba (ENSAP). Member of the Chronic Noncommunicable Diseases research group, the Prevention and Health Promotion group at UTPL, the Addictions Research Academic Network (REACADIC), and the Multinational Association for Solidarity Cancer Care (MASCC). Serves as a reviewer for the Addictive Disorders Bulletin, collaborates as a researcher with the Center for Academic Development in Drug Addiction (CEDRO) at the University of Medical Sciences of Havana, and works with the Ecuador Children's Hope Organization (ECHO). She has contributed to various research studies and scientific articles. Email: trodriquez3@utpl.edu.ec tamararodriguezq@gmail.com

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-3008-583X>

Jose Rodolfo Real Audeve

Doctorate in social sciences, with emphasis in the areas of society and education, from the Autonomous Metropolitan University, Xochimilco Unit, in Mexico City. Master's in clinical psychology from Western University (UdeO), National Autonomous University of Mexico (UNAM). Has worked as an undergraduate and graduate professor at various higher education institutions, including the National Pedagogical University (UPN), Western University (UdeO), Los Mochis Higher Institute (ITESUM), and the Intercultural Autonomous University of Mexico (UAIM). Has held the positions of deputy academic director and head of management, and currently serves as a full-time pedagogical advisor at UPES college in Los Mochis, Mexico, coordinating research and postgraduate studies. Contributed to the Support Program for Research and Technological Innovation Projects (PAPIIT) with several research on topics like racism, discrimination and xenophobia.

Book chapter publications: Studies and Reflections on Higher Education, its Policies and Realities, in the Ethnoregion for educational territories, among other topics.

Email: rreal70@gmail.com

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-00018996-3732>

Julieta Vélez Belmonte

Graduate degree in Psychology from the National Autonomous University of Mexico. Master's degree in clinical psychology and psychotherapy with specialisation in brief psychotherapy from Anáhuac University México. Master's degree in brief strategic therapy from the Center for Strategic Therapy in Arezzo, Italy. Master's in problem solving and strategic coaching from the same. PsyD in family sciences with research in families with a member diagnosed with Borderline Personality Disorder and Eating Disorder.

Director and International Chair for Mexico of the International Chapter of the International Association of Eating Disorder Professionals (IAEDP).

Has dedicated 22 years to work in the clinical field, including public consultations in hospitals, private consultations, and in treatment centers for serious psychopathologies, addictions, eating disorders and personality disorders. Currently serves as the Dean of the School of Psychology at Anáhuac University of Puebla.

Email: julieta.velez@anahuac.mx

julietavelezb@gmail.com