

THE INTERDISCIPLINARY JOURNAL OF STUDENT SUCCESS (IJSS)

FOUNDING EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Masood Zangeneh, Ph.D., Humber College, Canada

EDITORS

Hamid R. Yazdi, Ph.D., Humber College, Canada

Mona Nouroozifar, Ph.D., Humber College, Canada

ADVISORY BOARD

Maria-Lucia Di Placito, Ph.D., Humber College, Canada

Maydell Pérez Ineráriti, Ph.D., Central University “Marta Abreu” of Las Villas, Cuba

Saeed Moradian, Ph.D., York University, Canada

Yasuhiro Kotera Ph.D., Nottingham University, U.K.

Raffaella Margherita Milani, Ph.D., University of West London, U.K.

Fares Zine ElAbeddine, Ph.D., Sidi Bel Abbes University, Algeria

Neven Ricijaš, Ph.D., University of Zagreb, Croatia

Juan Carlos Jorge, Ph.D., University of Puerto Rico, Puerto Rico

Edyta Charzyńska, Ph.D., University of Silesia, Poland

Jalal Mohammed, Ph.D., Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand

Kosha Bramesfeld, Ph.D., University of Toronto, Canada

The Interdisciplinary Journal of Student Success

Volume 4 - 2025

Editorial: Neoliberal organization of classroom teaching and learning

Dionisio Nyaga, Rose Ann Torres, 1-6.

Creating spaces of possibilities: Imperatives for teacher education in neoliberal times

Kara E. Dymond, Lincoln Smith, Kathryn Broad, 7-34.

Pedagogical Anxiety in the Age of Artificial Intelligence: Implication to social work teaching and learning

Dionisio Nyaga, 35-52.

Linguistic Impressions and Colonial Representations of Africa

Dionisio Nyaga, 53-66.

Decolonial Voices: Muslim Immigrants in Canadian Education

Anila Zainub, 67-86.

Decolonizing Community Re-entry: Effective Case Studies of Innovative Community-Led Programs and Services to Support Formerly Incarcerated Individuals in Canada

Ardavan Eizadirad, Rai Reece, 87-92.

It Takes a Village to Raise a Child: Sankofa, Ubuntu, and Ujamaa as Counter-Frameworks for Anti-Colonial Education

Kenneth Gyamerah, 93-110.

Toward decolonizing methodologies: intersecting points of view of teachers and newly arrived immigrant students regarding inclusion

Rola Koubeissy, Florence Croguennec, Jène Rahm, Gabrielle Montesano, Garine Papazia-Zohrabian, 111-135.

Power of polyphony: Co-teaching as a pedagogical praxis for liberatory education

Viveka Ichikawa, Christa Sato, 136-160.

Religious Settler Identity: The Complex Relationship of Reconciliation and Religion

Rachel Flores, 161-178.

Subscription Information

The Interdisciplinary Journal of Student Success is published by CDS Press. The Interdisciplinary Journal of Student Success is owned and operated by CDS Press.

©2025 CDS Press.

ISSN 2817-2221

Journal Website: <https://cdspress.ca/>

Journal Twitter: @IjssJournal

Journal email: ijstudentsuccess@gmail.com

CDS Press Twitter: @CdsPress

Article Submission: <https://ijss.manuscriptmanager.net/>